

Brinicle

Brinicle!

Charged with a cold energy, it descends into the ocean depths.
The condensed ice spreads slowly, like a hand that carries death on its fingertips.
Relentless and deadly, it stealthily expands among the living...
It stealthily expands among the living.

Brinicle!

It ensures its path into the darkness of the depths.
The soil's surface slowly freezes with its touch of deadly frostbite.
Killing any nearby dweller, confining it into an eternal cold slumber.

Earth's energy is the only one that can decide if an animal should or shouldn't die!

With its absolute knowledge, unbelievable machinery and great design,
Brinicle's power shows us the value of true equilibrium.

The human race could not avoid it, could not respect it...
It's destroying everything by its hand, convinced of controlling that power.

Nature shows with an extraordinary strength that the real power shall always be its!

The human race could not avoid it, could not respect it...
It's destroying everything by its hand, convinced of controlling that power.